Yes. Thanks! Were these taken before or after powerwashing?

Good morning Blair,

It was great to finally meet you yesterday and I'm looking forward to working together in the future. Below you'll find the requested pictures from underneath the parklets.

In one of the photos you may actually be able to see the gnats flying out of the stagnant water.

Also, I just wanted to check-in about watering at the parklets. Chrysalis is providing frequent watering to help the succulents establish. Once established, did you want to turn over watering responsibilities to LA Café or have Chrysalis water once per week?

Thanks,

Joel Holwerda
